History:

Kelly Blake Moran has developed an original approach to golf course design since entering the profession in 1984. After eleven years with von Hagge Design Associates, Inc., where he was a partner, Kelly began his unaccompanied career in 1995. Each of his completed projects have been a refinement of his landbased design approach, which relies a great deal upon his presence on the land during all phases of the project. His success in attaining the sense of land makes each golf course a truthful representation of the land, while providing a strategic challenge of the highest order.
